

Who we are...

Founded in 1982, PLP Battery Supply is a battery distribution company located in Murphysboro, Illinois. Our local market region is scenic Southern Illinois. We service this area with our own trucks, delivering quality products and providing pick-up of spent batteries for shipment to approved recycling facilities. But car, truck, and tractor batteries are only part of our story...

By the end of our first decade, our battery charger sales, parts, and authorized service center operations were thriving. We soon expanded beyond our regional market, lending our expertise to customers across the U.S. and becoming a recognized leader in charger and repair parts distribution.

Our growth continued, and a few years later, we added rechargeable battery pack assembly and re-pack services to our in-house capabilities. We can replace the old cells in your drill pack with new, high-capacity cells, or build a production run of dozens or hundreds of custom packs. We still use only the highest quality cells, components, and production equipment to guarantee performance and your satisfaction.

We offer fair prices on high quality products that are factory-fresh and guaranteed, stocking thousands of units in our warehouse to ensure availability.

We invite you to put our experience to work for you. Call The Battery Specialists at PLP Battery Supply, your source for batteries, chargers, & more...
